Welcome

Introductions

Celebrations

- We did a December to remember where we did an activity every day in December. It's really fun!
- Recognized our first lobo leaders. We presented them in a faculty meeting and it was so fun! The kids loved being recognized in front of their teachers
- We will recognize two more students at our meeting in February
- It is hope week this week. Will end with an assembly about suicide prevent
- We will reward students for 3.5 GPA and above and give them a candy bar.
- Cs Bs and As before the holidays: not a lot of people who were eligible. But really fun for those who were! We just encouraged students to have their grades up before the break! So it wasn't so hectic before the end of the term in the 1 ½ after Christmas

PBIS

- First pack party (no tardies and no unexcused absences) allows 240 students to get rewarded
- We didn't do a midterm award last term because of the Cs Bs and As before the holidays
- Lobo leaders again in February

- Conduct another survey at the end of January to see if kids know the lobo way since we did the survey at the beginning of the year. We have really been pushing teachers to do more with the lobo way in the classroom and teaching it throughout the school

Safe Technology and Digital Citizenship Plan

- The filters Nebo District uses: Content keeper. It has to meet certain standards for state regulations. Content keeper is a little more strict for what the requirements through federal and state require. No filters are perfect, but this one does a pretty good job! If a website catches a certain category, it could be blocked. Content keeper is used at home as well
- Students can connect to Stu-open (doesn't need a password) on any device like their phone. This is a very heavily filtered wifi access point.
- Once students log onto their chromebooks they have a little more access, but the district can also track and see what they do on chromebooks/websites they visit
- We have started using lanschool this year. It's a little bit harder to use on a chromebook, but if teachers are using desktops it is really great.
  - Available for all teachers to use!
- Netsmartz is a really great resource for teaching students about how to use technology safely.
- If inappropriate content is accessed or attempted the district sends a report to the school where the administrator can contact home or take chromebooks away
- Here at SFJHS we are one to one with chromebooks! Some students check chromebooks out every morning, rather than have one assigned to them at all times. This is an option to everyone, but only some students do this

Budget for TSSA Plan/Trust Lands Plan

- We will have about 145,000.00 to use (this is an estimate) for trust lands plan
  - Try to assign these funds to new teachers because we can spread it out further
  - Look really close to see who is getting paid through these accounts because we want to use it as wisely as we can
- We will have about 150,000.00 to use (this is an estimate) for TSSA
  - Main chromebooks are being purchased through TSSA
  - Our student advocates, trackers are paid through this account
- We just have to balance everything we need (for example, like adding another math teacher to keep class sizes low)
- Chromebooks:
  - Use both Trustland and TSSA funds

Testing Data- Rise

- Different patterns and hard to know how to use the data
- Math has declining scores, so could use the FTE in that department

Items from the Council

- After School Activities?
  - Clubs vs Extracurricular
  - Trustland monies pay for it?
  - Club Ideas: Card Making, cake decorating, anime, sewing, ASL, chess, etc.
